The friends of the FREE PRESS throughout the county, who may visit the county seat during the coming session of district court, and especially that numerous class who are indebted to it on subscription or other account, are respectfully invited to give us a call.

UNDER the appropriate head it will be seen that Edward R. Kone announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge. He has held the position, by favor of the people, for a number of years, and upon the whole we believe has made an acceptable officer.

ELSEWHERE we give place to the announcement of B. B. Rose, Esq., as a candidate for County Judge. Mr. Rose is a young gentleman of good legal attainments and superior general information. We should take him to be well qualified for the important position to which he aspires.

DR. BRACKENRIDGE has leased his Telegraph-Telephone business to the Erie Telephone Company for five years. They have dropped for the present the telegraph and substituted the telephone. We are now in connection with Austin, San Antonio and a great many other places, extending as far as Uvalde, and communication will be opened soon with many other places down on the schedule. Upon the whole the substitution of the Telephone will be to the greater advantage of our community, especially to our business men.

Our schools opened on Monday in excellent trim. Corral Institute had 180 pupils the first day, and the number reached 200 on the day following. We learn the boarding department is already full. Both the Institute and Mrs. Duncan's school, from what we learn, have about all the pupils they can accommodate. It would seem that additional room will have to be made for the free school pupils and others who are yet expected.

The growth of interest in education in our community is most cheering. We only need now a well equipped independent Free School, in a good well building of its own, to complete the education of San Marcos as an educational center.

Austin.

We made another hasty run to Austin and return on Monday. We never saw the city duller. En route we met Mrs. J. J. Williams and other friends, and in the city W. A. Bowen, correspondent of the San Antonio Express, and Mr. Senter, the Austin correspondent of the Fort Worth Gazette, also a representative of the Capital whose name we cannot recall.

We found the Carrollton in successful progress under charge of our agreeable English friend, Mr. Howarth, and the younger Mr. Harn. Dr. Harn, the proprietor, was still absent on an excursion to Chicago, St. Louis, etc., but was expected home soon. Apropos, we are under obligation to him for a late St. Louis paper.

The number of scholastic population in each school district in the county, as returned to County Judge:

District No.	White	Colored
1	455	267
2	303	46
3	258	—
4	330	—
5	237	55

The County Judge has made his distribution to the different districts based upon the scholastic population of each district, and has given each child $5.25.

Judge Kone favored us with the above, and further informs us that the School Trustees have all qualified. It was not decided when the Free Schools would open. The State Superintendent recommends that they be opened simultaneously and all close at once, but the Judge said it was not thought practicable to do so in this county. He said that here in San Marcos no steps were taken to start another school in place of that of Prof. Richardson, which has been suspended in consequence of the ill health of Mrs. Richardson.

P. S. In order to a clearer understanding of the matter, we should have stated that a meeting of the school trustees of this county was held at this place on Monday, and some of the results are set forth above.

From a Special Reporter.

The ice cream supper given by the members of the Aid Society of the Presbyterian church in the Court House yard Friday night was well attended and proved to be one of the most pleasant affairs of the season.

Misses Joyce, Storey, Franklin, Poole, Bridges, Booker, Hockett and others served the refreshments gracefully and with due attention to the wants of all. The different tables were tastefully decorated with flowers, from the trees hung beautifully colored lanterns, while occasionally the entire grounds were illuminated with bright lights. At one of the tables was a "Fortune Cake" where those desiring, could have revealed to them their future partners in life. Many eagerly availed themselves of this opportunity, especially old bachelors. Another interesting feature was the "lost office." The hearts of many were made glad by the receipt of letters from friends far and near. Thanks are due to Messrs. J. G. Jones for his assistance as auctioneer. Also to Mr. J. A. Bell for furnishing a large number of chairs. Through the kindness of Messrs. Harris, Reed and Nighay.

"Music arose with its voluptuous swell, Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spoke again, And all went merry as a marriage bell."

Net proceeds $50.40c.

ALMOST a tragedy occurred near this place on Sunday. The body of a negro named Green was found on the railroad track between this place and Hunter, and it was reported that it bore the evidences that he had been murdered before being placed on the track. So Mayor Cook, accompanied by Marshal Prince, Sheriff Barber, deputy Sheriff Turner, Judge Kone, Frank Obanion, W. C. Dugger and a dozen negroes started for the scene in hand-cars in order to hold an inquest.

While going on a down grade an obstruction it was thought appeared ahead, and an attempt was made to use the brakes to check the progress of the car. Messrs. Cook, Prince and Barber, as we learn, sat in front on some loose scantling, which the operation of the brakes threw off, and of course also threw off the three parties named in front of the car. All were injured, the two former quite seriously, and Prince worst of all. We called to see him on Tuesday morning, and found him fearfully bruised and lacerated about the head and face. Two of his ribs are reported broken, and he may have sustained even worse internal injuries, though we trust such is not the case. Mayor Cook was also badly injured, mainly as we learn about his lower limbs. A negro worked the car lever. Prince expressed to our reporter the opinion that whisky was at the bottom of the affair.

Card From Capt. Kyle.
KYLE Sept. 2th, 1884.

EDITOR FREE PRESS:—Having been a constant patron of yours since you first embarked in the newspaper enterprise in this country, gives me reason to hope that I will be given the privilege through your columns to request the party who replies to a correspondent of the Star Vindicator, (La Perique) to give the many reasons, why I was so objectionable to San Marcos. I feel that this is due me, from the fact that those who are not acquainted with those many reasons, may conclude that I am not orthodox in my democracy, or that I may have perpetrated some dishonorable crime. Mr. Julian, no man can charge that one of my reasons of complaint has escaped my line since my defeat. I knew nothing of La Perique's communication until I saw it in print. Deeply humiliated by defeat, I did hope that by complete submission, rest would be given me; that time might work forgetfulness even of the ingratitude of some who deserted and others who staid and struck me. As for our country officials I am as ready as any one to defend them against a charge of official dishonesty. I have not complained, but could I have not charged, but could they be so completely bulldozed by my competitors forces under—what it was pitiful to look at the little fellows, all of them. From reports that have reached me since our last primaries, it is possible that I may convince the county this fall in vindication of myself. Sincerely
FRED KYLE.

Several copies of the Free Press may be had at this office, and also at the news-stand of Messrs. Russell and Elyson, price five cents.

The Boom in San Marcos.

Considering the total failure of crops last year, and the prospect of a very short cotton crop this season, the manner in which our town has gone and is yet going ahead is not a little remarkable. A large number of good and handsome buildings have gone up during the present season, and we were told on Tuesday at the lumberyard of Christian & Co., that they had never before had so many orders for lumber as at present. Improvements are in progress in all parts of the town, and the buildings we are informed are nearly all substantial frames, instead of the box or balloon concerns which have heretofore so largely prevailed. We believe there is not a vacant house in our town, whereas formerly at this season there have been many "to let." Apropos, our men of means should take the hint and go to work and build houses for rent. It requires but little time and a comparatively small outlay in this country to erect buildings, and there is no doubt many more would be occupied at once, if we had them.

Upon the whole the outlook for the future of San Marcos was never before so promising as it is now.

The School House as a Sign.

An exchange truthfully remarks:
"There is no surer sign of a lack of intelligence and refinement in a neighborhood than a dilapidated and slovenly school house; its benches hacked with knives and stained with ink; its doors unhinged, its floor covered with dirt and its windows open to sun and rain. On the other hand, if you see a school house neat in design, freshly painted, in repair, with a small turfed yard filled with beautiful shade trees, you, instinctively infer that the families of the neighborhood are enterprising and intelligent. If the school house is what it ought to be, you are likely to find in it a competent teacher and well behaved pupils. In such a neighborhood, moreover, you will be likely to find the farms well taken care of, the fences trim, the houses in good repair. The town which neglects its schools is on the high road to ruin."

PERSONAL.

Sorry to hear of the illness of Maj. Nance. Mrs. Poole we learn wishes some boarders. Mr. Motheral has removed back to town. Mr. Price, of Green & Price, has returned from New York city.

Robbins gracefully concedes the serenade to his juniors across the alley.

Bob Leavel is happy. His cat has returned.

A. Y. Oldham, a new-comer is connected with Townsend's meat market.

Mr. Ailey informs us that Gov. Ireland has remitted his fine on the charge of violating the Sunday law.

Col. Sledge and Wm. M. Sledge, a nephew of the Col. called on us yesterday in our absence.

C. M. Desai, a prominent Galvestonian, visited our town last week and expressed himself as much pleased with what he saw.

Geo. H. Heane presented his smiling face in our sanctum one day last week. He has been at New Braunfels since he sold out here.

Mr. Wilcox, the ice cream man, has charge of the telephone. Miss Martin, late telegraph operator, will take a position elsewhere.

W. H. Kenner, of Laredo, was here again last week. He said he was looking after that corn-sheller, and if no one else would start one he would do it himself.

U. S. Exposition Commissioner Gammage went west without calling at this place. From the apathy prevailing here on the subject of his mission, he probably did not think it worth his while to stop.

After a couple of months very pleasantly spent at this place, the Hockett family returned on Monday to San Antonio. They will be much missed in society here, of which they were favorites.

We give place in another column to a card from our friend Capt. Ferguson. We permit us to say that we think he attaches a great deal too much importance to personal effusions in the newspapers.

We had the pleasure of meeting Elder Goodloe, the Christian minister at Waco, on yesterday. He is holding services here nightly, and will continue his meetings over Sunday. He is a veteran in the service.

Thanks to Mr. Hofheinz for vegetables from his garden. He has rejoiced in a profusion of them variety all the season. Adjacent to his garden he has some very respectable sized pigs; they will weigh some 500 or 600 pounds by Christmas.

Miss Dozier, a teacher in the Austin public schools, has been visiting at this place about a month, stopping at Dr. deStiege's. She will resume work about the 15th—the schools at Austin not opening sooner—a sensible idea in this hot climate.

James Whittington, recently an employee of Mr. Bell, died last week at the residence of Mr. Hewke, of typhoid fever. A brother of his died here some four years ago, and James had ordered a tombstone for him. It came during his sickness, and now he too is no more.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. T. Townsend, of Tamaulipas, Mexico, surprised us by a call on yesterday morning. They are here under very sad circumstances, with their eldest son, who is afflicted with a distressing malady which physicians pronounce incurable. Mrs. T. will remain at Wimberly for some months, but Mr. T. is compelled to return as soon as possible. They are still pleased with Mexico. The season there this year has been about as dry as it is here.

We called last week on our old friends Mrs. Duncan, Miss Cotton and their good mother, and were glad to find them in a hopeful and progressive state. Mrs. D. has added a new school room, which will enable her to accommodate to a greater extent her large and increasing patronage. Mrs. Cotton treated us to some fine samples of seedling peaches grown on that place, which we found to be really superior. Seedlings we are told are more productive and often not inferior to grafted varieties in Texas. Now that we have water in abundance our town may be expected to turn out some fair peaches, figs and other fruits large and small.

The subscriber has about sixty head of cattle for sale, consisting of cows, calves, yearlings, and two year olds—a large proportion females. But four old ones in the lot. The cattle are at my pasture, six miles south west of San Marcos. I have also five three year old beef steers in fair order. July 10th-11. JAMES SCOTT.

Such a succession of fat beavers as Billy Beck is daily catching and disposing of in this place is refreshing to the sight, much more to the palate. He has not failed to turn out a first-rate article, we believe, since he began business. Most eaters (and their name is legion) are getting high on Billy. He has the secret of the beaver's fat, and will keep a supply on hand at all times.

Died.

JOHNSON—On Monday the 1st inst., at their residence in this place, after a lingering illness, Mrs. MARY E. JOHNSON, wife of Frank M. Johnson.

It is with peculiar regret that we record the above death. We were not personally acquainted with Mrs. Johnson, but having occasion to notice in our daily rides to office the settlement of the family in their new and pleasant home, with an outlook so promising to the little household, the surroundings were such as to elicit special interest and sympathy, now that the light of that home has gone out forever. Such are some of the sad vicissitudes of this earthly life. But though husband and two little ones have suffered an irreparable loss in the death of this faithful wife and mother, her good example will be a light to their feet and the memory of her Christian hope an anchor to their souls in their journey through life. For we learn she was a firm and devoted Christian, and a member of the Methodist church for twelve years, though unable from physical infirmity, from which she had long been a great sufferer, to be a regular attendant at church. So her sorrowing relatives and friends need not mourn as those without hope.
